EFTEC takes over Wagner Automotive Systems

The EFTEC Europe Holding AG, Zug, part of the Swiss EMS Group, will take over all shares of WAGNER Automotive Systems with head office in Markdorf, Germany from the 1st February 2001. This further strengthens its position in the market as a system supplier for products and application equipment from a single supplier for the areas of "bonding, coating and sealing" in car manufacture.

WAGNER Automotive Systems is an independent business division of J. WAGNER GmbH and is active in the area of the planning, sales and the construction and commissioning of application equipment for the car industry. Last year a turnover of 10 million DM was achieved with fully automatic cavity and rocker panel treatment equipment. The WAGNER Automotive Systems technology ideally extends the EFTEC application equipment business.

The business will be continued at both locations of the engineering companies namely, EFTEC Engineering AB in Hässleholm, Sweden and EFTEC Engineering GmbH (formally WAGNER Automotive Systems) in Markdorf, Germany.
